Today, many dogs are deemed dangerous, not on the traits of the individual animal, but by breed alone. The authors explain why breed discrimination is unfair, and ineffective, and discuss approaches to handle reckless owners and their dogs. While there is nothing wrong with laws restricting vicious dogs, to have a dog seized or destroyed solely on the basis of its breed flies in the face of common decency. This book introduces a new point-set level approach to stable homotopy theory that has already had many applications and promises to have a lasting impact on the subject. Given the sphere spectrum \mathbb{S} , the authors construct an associative, commutative, and unital smash product in a complete and cocomplete category of \mathbb{S} -modules" whose derived category is equivalent to the classical stable homotopy category. This construction allows for a simple and algebraically manageable definition of \mathbb{S} -algebras" and "commutative \mathbb{S} -algebras" in terms of associative, or associative and commutative, products $R \wedge SR \rightarrow R$. These notions are essentially equivalent to the earlier notions of A ∞ \mathbb{S} and E ∞ \mathbb{S} ring spectra, and the older notions feed naturally into the new framework to provide plentiful examples. There is an equally simple definition of R -modules in terms of maps $R \wedge SM \rightarrow M$. When R is commutative, the category of R -modules also has a
